AMAZING SOUND

Sit back and enjoy amazing sound and the convenience of wireless streaming with the SōLIS® SO-6000. The SO-6000 features Chromecast built-in, so choose from millions of songs from popular music services like Spotify, Google Play Music, and Pandora, or catch up on current events with NPR podcasts. New apps are constantly being added so there's no end to the music, online radio stations, and podcasts you can enjoy.

With the Google Home app you can stream music to a single speaker, different music to individual speakers, or create groups for multi-room listening. Simply tap the cast icon on any Chromecast-enabled app to begin streaming from your phone, tablet, or computer.

The SO-6000 also works with the Google Assistant, which allows you to use the Google Home unit to control any SōLIS model featuring Chromecast built-in. Change the music, adjust the volume or stop playback with your voice.

The SO-6000 provides high res audio streaming, Bluetooth connectivity and an auxiliary input for connecting a wired music source. The 2x18W RMS amplifier, low-resonance wooden enclosure and high resolution Chromecast built-in streaming delivers truly amazing sound that will fill your room with great music and genuinely amaze you and your guests.

The SO-6000 uses 20th century MCM design cues paired with 21st century materials for striking good looks.

Leave no note unheard with the SōLIS SO-6000.
